Valdosta State is for individuals.
TKE

Don't disturb me.
I am thinking about why I am here.

In a world of "me", "you" is one of the most important words.

There are many different types of people in the world, all with their own looks, dress, and mannerisms. But when you strip away all the frivolous differences you will find that all people are basically the same, guided by the same emotions, desires, and predjudices. VSC is no different than any other place in the world; we too are made up of many different types of people.

Here at VSC, as elsewhere, no two people are alike, yet no two people are totally different.

Each individual has his own method of expressing himself to others. Some use dance, others song and still others just what they say or the expression on their faces. And of course photographers have a method all their own?!

I pride myself on being myself
Do not fault me for that but admire me instead
I am unique, different, set apart from others
I am black, I am white, I am man, I am woman but above all else, I am what I am.
Before we can know others we must know ourselves.
Who am I? What do I want? Why am I here?
These are the questions we must answer for ourselves.
Come out from hiding and be yourself.

Professor Barker was born in Brooklyn, New York, but grew up in Birmingham, Alabama where he was a police officer for seven years. He is married and has two sons (Ages nine and six). While a police officer in Birmingham Professor Barker received 12 Letters of Commendation and won The Kiwanis "Safe City Award" for the capture of two robbers in the act. Barker attended Jefferson State Junior College, and Samford University while he was a police officer. After graduating Cum Laude from Samford, Barker was awarded a Doctoral Fellowship in Sociology at Mississippi State University. Barker is currently A.B.D. at Mississippi State and is presently writing his Doctoral Dissertation. Professor Barker is a member of the American Society of Criminology and The National Council on Crime and Delinquency and four honor societies (Alpha Kappa Delta, Delta Tau Kappa, Phi Alpha Theta, and Pi Gamma Mu). He also has published one book and three articles on police corruption and presented papers at the last three meetings of The American Society of Criminology. In addition to Professor Barker's scholarly pursuits he is an avid (bordering on obsession) fisherman. He and his nine year old son can be found any Friday or Saturday at Brown's Pond in search of the "Hang" Bass.

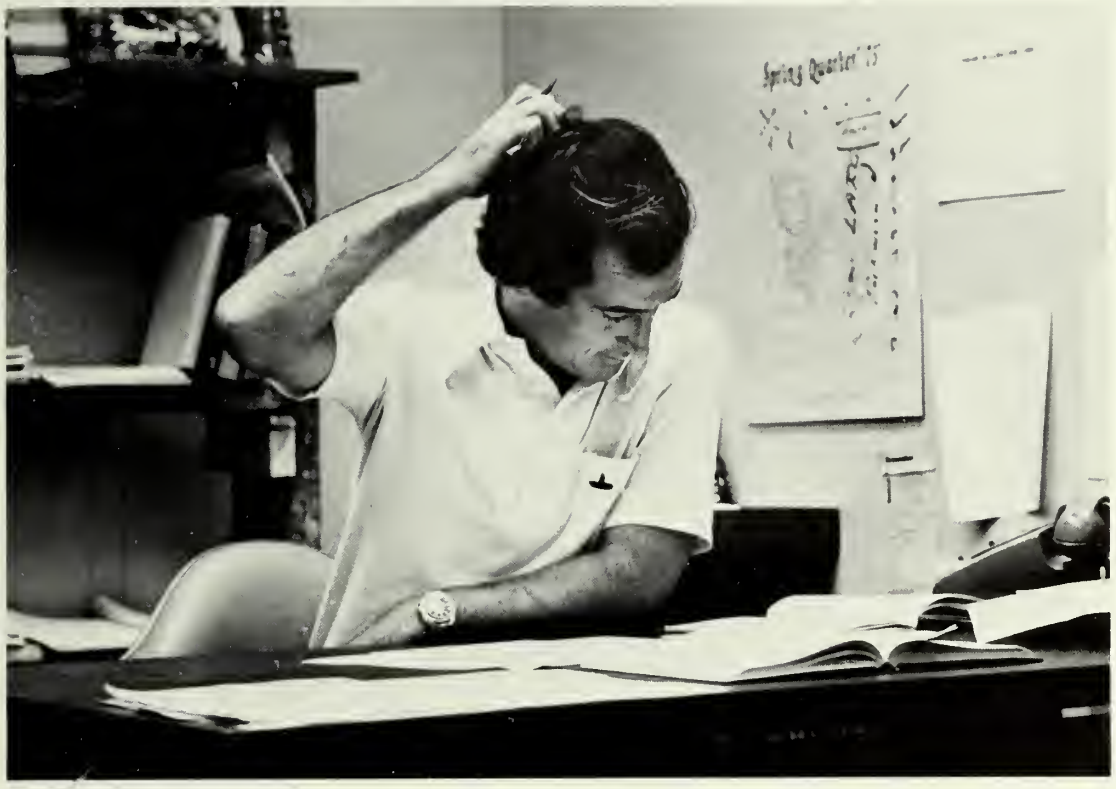
Thomas Barker — Sociology Criminal Justice

I am an assistant professor of Biology and am also a registered nurse. I moved to Valdosta in August, 1963, from Johnstown, Pennsylvania. I became the first woman in Valdosta to be elected to the Valdosta City Council, having been elected in February 1972, and reelected in 1974. I was honored by fellow council members by being named Mayor Pro-tem of Valdosta. A strong concern for environmental problems has prompted me to be the prime mover for a tree protective ordinance which is now being tested in the courts.

With my husband, H. Bernard Bechtel, I am a member of the National Wildlife Federation, the Audubon Society, Jacksonville Zoological Society and Philadelphia Zoological Society.

My husband and I have a pronounced interest in herpetology, the study of reptiles and amphibians, which is evidenced in two outlets: photography of reptiles and amphibians and capture breeding of snakes with particular emphasis on the study of mutants.

Elizabeth R. Bechtel Biology



I am a Member of the Department of Special Education, and Director of the Children's Service Center and Teaching Clinic. I became interested in exceptional children in 1966 on my first visit to Central State Hospital while I was a student at Mercer University.

I am on the advisory board of The Pointer, a periodical for teachers and parents of handicapped children, and have been a member of the Executive Committee of the state Council for Exceptional Children for the past four years.

I am married to the former Peggy Cook of Pearson, Georgia, who is presently completing her studies in Special Education at VSC.

I was Assistant Editor of the school paper as an undergraduate and was a member of a very active Student Government, being a Senior Class representative.

I play tennis, golf, and bike a lot. My favorite place is the long beautiful beaches at Destin, Florida.

One of the most influential people in my life has been Senator Bobby Kennedy.

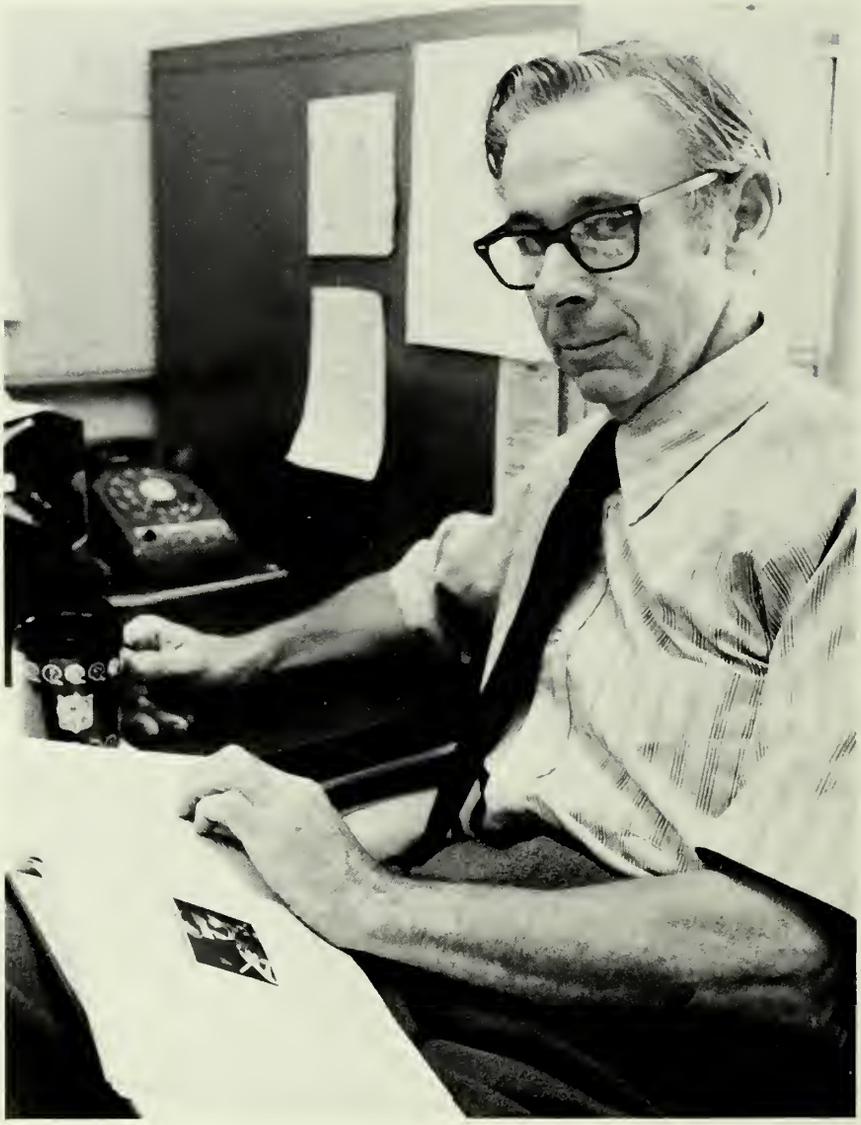
I feel that the key to support for exceptional children is public education.

My favorite magazines are Exceptional Children, Time, and Sports Illustrated.

My favorite book of all those I have read is Psychoanalysis, by Sigmund Freud.

The most difficult thing for me to handle as a professor is a student who does not care about a course that he is taking, a course that involves learning skills and techniques to be used when working with a child who is handicapped. Even though 95% of my students are really excited about their field, I am very concerned when even one student appears to be disinterested. When a student takes me for a course, I want this course to be the very best course that he has ever taken or ever will take at VSC. I take my job very seriously.

Ronald E. Childs Special Ed



When the searching photographic eye of "Pine Cone" found me, I was on the phone talking about fire, title and business, three milestone developments in man's evolution. My conversation was not all that profound, of course, because it had to do only with the contractor who is putting a fireplace into my study.

But deciding on getting a fireplace was a kind of milestone for me. I have enjoyed being here and talking with students about things important to their lives and mine. The new construction more or less cements my intention to bide here yet a while if it be possible. And perhaps to toast a few marshmallows between preparations for next day's discussions!

A.T. Criscolo — Business Administration Economics

Topeka, Kansas was my place of birth and where I attended grammar and high school. I graduated from Kansas State University with a degree in Physical Education. My main interest with the degree program was in dance.

After teaching several years in Kansas, I married and had two daughters. My husband was in the sales field so we moved a great deal ending up in Texas. I returned to teaching in secondary schools while living in Texas where my job included directing a forty-five girl dance drill team which performed for half time shows at the football games. These girls performed at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas at one time for the Dallas Cowboys.

My arrival in Valdosta came after finishing my degree, a Master's in Counseling and Guidance at North Texas State University, and doing some job jumping in higher education to gain the experience I needed.

Valdosta State College attracted me for I saw an opportunity to work directly with students in their development during post adolescent years.

I live in a house with a cocker spaniel named Mikah, who was given to me by a student. He takes up a great deal of my time.

My hobbies include sewing, cooking, bridge and I like to work outside in the yard. I was a runner-up in the Valdosta Times Recipe Contest.

Sara J. Fickertt — Associate Dean
Student Affairs

My hobbies are traveling, eating, and making new acquaintances. My travels have taken me throughout the States, to Europe, Russia, and the Far East. What has impressed me most is how people of different nationalities and backgrounds are so much alike. It's not been difficult to communicate. My hands and facial expressions speak many languages with those we want to understand. Everyone is interested in good food and drink. Not many speak of politics or controversial subjects. Most people take pride in showing their best of whatever interests you. "Southern" hospitality can be found anywhere south of the North Pole.

Maxine Gillespie — Library

I lived in Panama two years, in Europe five years, in Japan four years as well as living all over the United States. From my experience I can say that Valdosta is a great town but has some of the worst roads that I have ever seen.

In addition to nursing, I also teach Red Cross swimming every year at the college pool. My hobbies include bridge and bowling.

I have a white alley cat Jelly because he wobbles around the belly. I drive a 1964 Sprite sports car which I love.

Phyllis Gilson — Nursing

In addition to teaching at VSC I am also Minister of music at the Lee Street Baptist Church. I have been music director of "Drumbeats in Georgia" at Jekyll Island and have appeared in recitals and oratorio performances through the South. My wife Carolyn is also a singer and a teacher. I also have two children, Julie Ann, 15, and Joseph, 13. My hobbies include writing, athletics, and horseback riding.

I have been teaching at VSC since 1968. My goals in teaching are to expose my students to the joys of good music and to equip them with the necessary tools that will enable them to make a significant contribution to music education and to themselves.

Joe Haas Music

At VSC I teach art-education and sculpture. When I am not teaching I work on my own wood carving and sculpting at school, at home, or in my studio at the Pigeon Loft Gallery.

During the summer vacation I migrate northward to my Ohio farm, located back in the woods at the end of a road to nowhere. Usually I go east for a week to visit museums and art galleries, and to see the wonders of the cities. During Christmas I head for Key West to enjoy the surf and water and visit my daughter and family.

Recently I purchased some white sand dunes, trees and flowers on the ocean south of Tallahassee. Now I am designing a cabana which I will pre-fab in Valdosta and then assemble on the site next summer. After that — more vacations and weekends down that-a-way, and art.

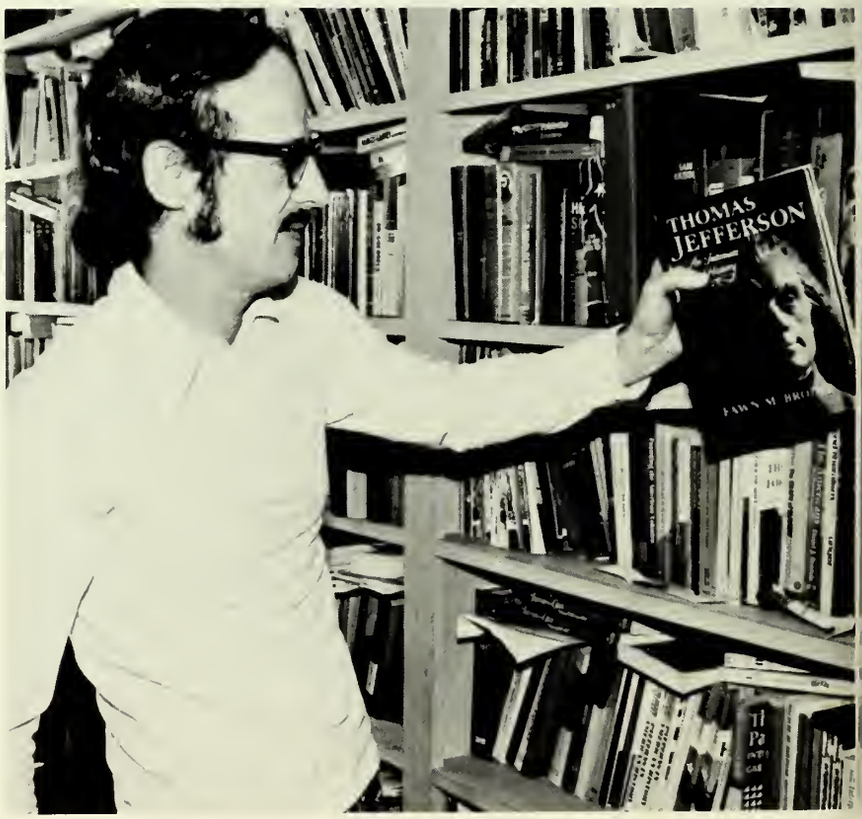
What? — Me? — in the PINE CONE? Wow! Golly! GEE WHIZ!

What to write? Let's see — degrees (B.A., M.A., Ph. D.)? hobbies (stamp collecting, tropical fish, railroads)? courses taught (Southern history, Civil War-Reconstruction, black history)? How about the rewards of teaching at VSC for eight years (friends on the faculty, interested students, classes that go well, visits and letters from former students)? What about the frustrations of eight years at VSC (students who are not interested, not enough time to do a good job of teaching and research)?

Eight years at VSC! — tempus fugit. Tests to make up. Papers to grade. Lectures to prepare. Hopefully some time to read and write. Meetings to attend. Hectic existence. Oh well! — Here comes a student to be advised . . .

Richard M. McMurry



My life has been a series of extraordinary achievements. As a freshman at Washington and Lee University I broke all records for academic performance (never before or since has a student there failed every course including P.E.). As a soldier, I again distinguished myself (I became the only enlisted man in the entire history of the U.S. Army not to be given a reenlistment talk). My feats as a manufacturing plant manager are still being talked about in business circles as nothing short of phenomenal (I took a perfectly successful operation and within four years had driven it into the ground).

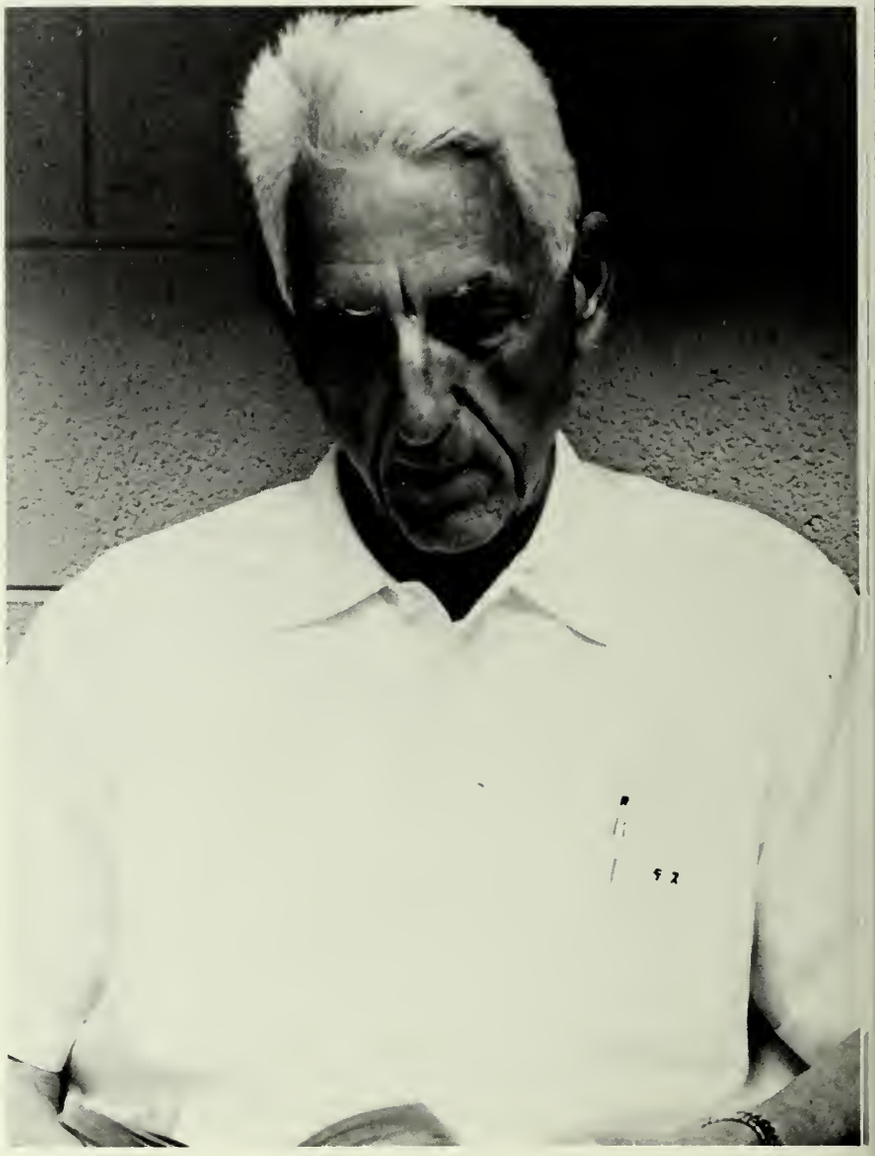
However, the crowning achievement of my life, the goal for which these other events had served to prepare me, came when, upon completing graduate school, I faced the prospect of unemployment and abject poverty.

Fortunately, VSC saved me from unemployment.

Valdosta was particularly appealing to me because I have always had a fear of strangers, and I had heard that there were no strangers in Valdosta. I was also afraid that if I remained in the North, someday soon some damn Klansman was going to burn a cross on my lawn, and I had heard that there were no Klansmen in Valdosta.

Teaching at VSC has been fun. Never before have I encountered so many whose views are so different from mine, and exposing students to "truth" is a very pleasurable activity. The only frustrating thing is the knowledge that not every student can have the opportunity to learn the lessons of tolerance and humility at the feet of the world's greatest political scientist.

Richard Seager Political Science



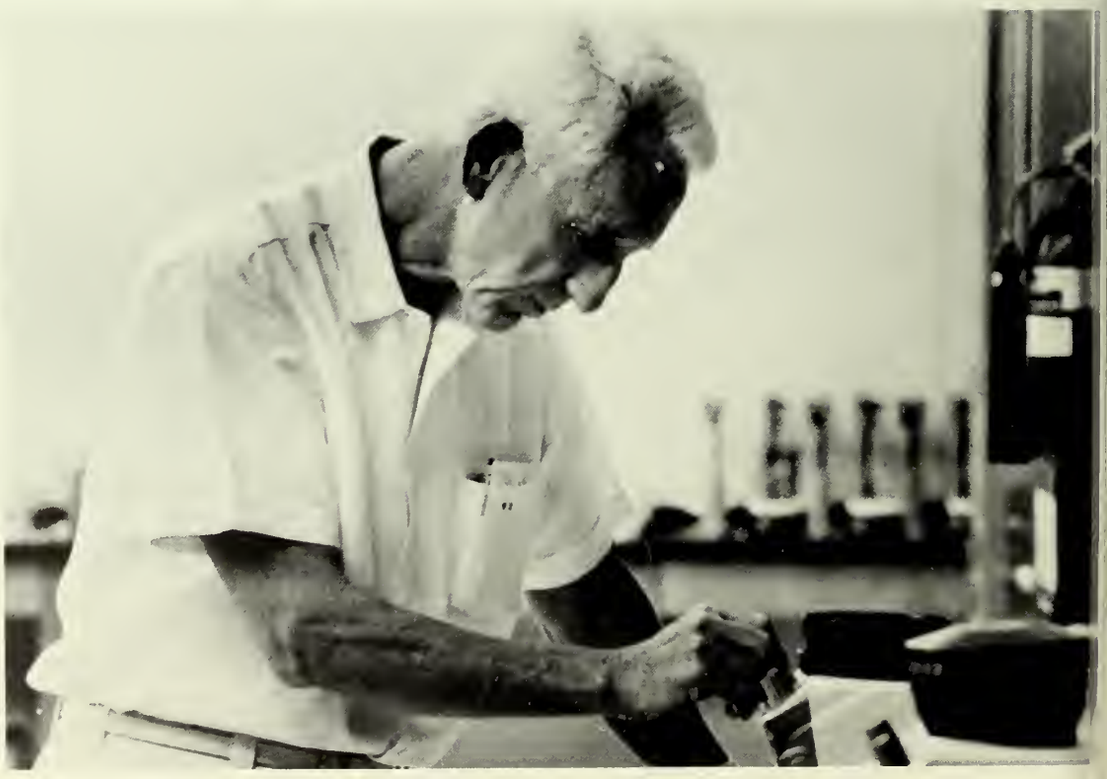
I am a native Georgian, educated at the universities in Georgia, Michigan, and Maryland. I taught medical chemistry at the University of Georgia and organic chemistry at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge before joining the U.S. Public Health Service in the late forties.

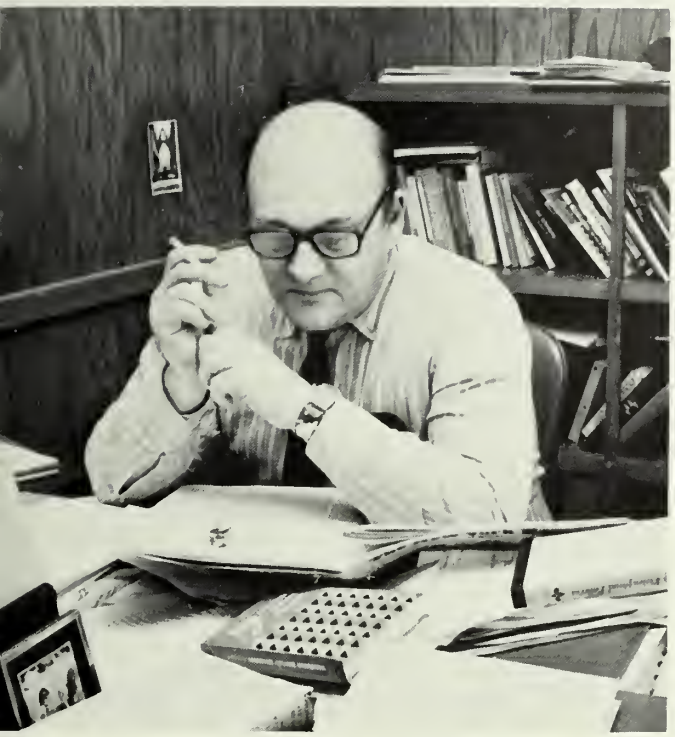
My assignment in the Public Health Service involved searches for more effective insecticides to control mosquitoes and flies and other insects known to leave human diseases. Later, I was transferred to a toxicological laboratory in Wenatchee, Washington to study the effects of spray chemicals on humans.

In 1953 I joined Mead Johnson and Company in Dansville as director of research in the chemistry of medicinal products. In this capacity I travelled throughout the far East, particularly in Japan, in search of Asiatic drugs which could be brought to the United States for development and sold in the Western Hemisphere. I later returned to Japan for two academic quarters to teach chemistry at Daito Bunka University.

Three years ago I moved to Valdosta and have been teaching chemistry at VSC since that time.

W.T. Sumerford





At the request of the Pine Cone staff, I have agreed to write something about myself for this page. Unfortunately, I have come to realize in the process of attempting to describe myself that I have little or no real knowledge about my subject. I certainly am not being excessively modest when I say that I cannot find anything about myself that is especially noteworthy. Nor can I find anything especially bad. However, I certainly would not say that I had no character at all. I possess neither the exuberance and optimism of youth nor the wisdom and resignation of old age, which means, I suppose that I am the classic example of one who is middle-aged.

I have interests, of course. I occasionally dabble in oil painting, though not with the competence I desire. I enjoy the other arts, though not finding the delight of discovery they once offered. I am a romanticist in the nineteenth-century sense of the term, who, like Wordsworth in his later years, finds change somewhat disturbing. I am an expatriot, who will never return to the southwest of his youth.

If I were to summarize myself, my attitude toward life, at this point in time, I could not do better than the following:

Life is a game that must be played:
  This truth at least, good friends, we know;
So live and laugh, nor be dismayed
  As one by one the phantoms go.

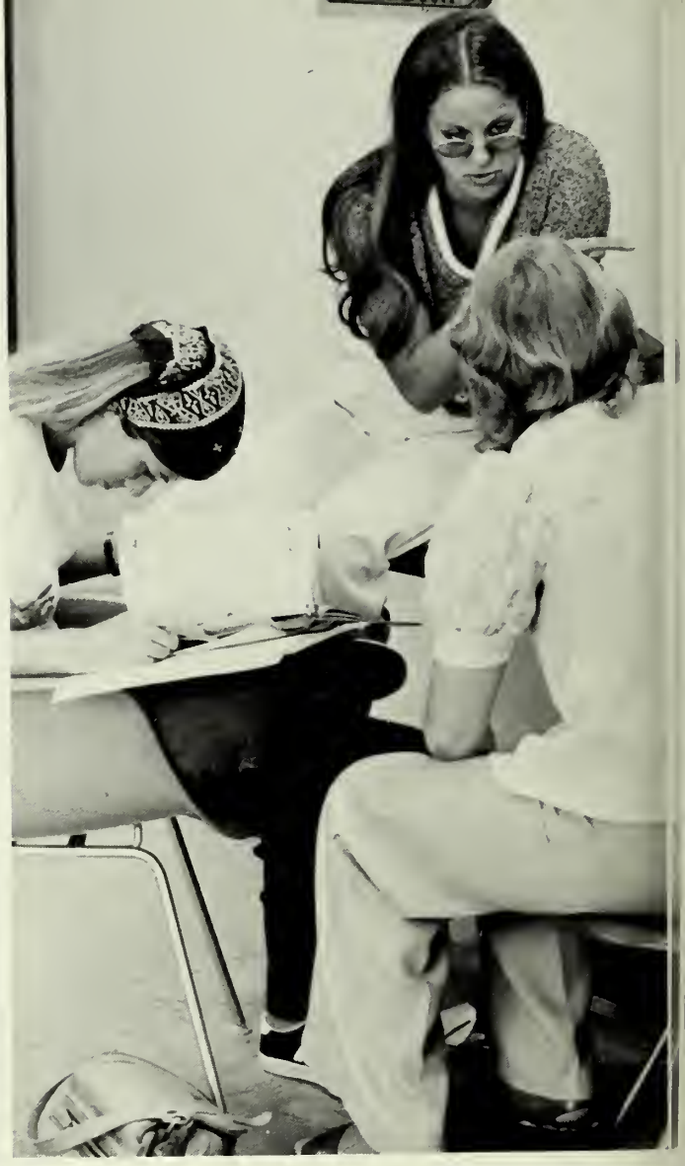
ANNUAL ANNUAL



"How many faculty
why
Isn't mac going to take 'em
That would be nice
No lie
How do you want them . . . full length
Where's Bob
He's not here
What am I looking for . . . What am I looking for How am I ever supposed to find anything around
He does look a little funny doesn't he
We could use this picture for blackmail
Why don't you let her draw the lines
She's quite capable
Melinda I have a problem
Another one
Make a list
I did
Make another one
Put it on the wall you can't lose it on the wall
Answer the phone
How does it work
Push the button
This one
I can do 20 pages but not 180
Anybody know how many people on the team
Where is Bob
He still isn't here
We need a radio
What team
Tennis team
If I knew I'd tell Melinda where to go
But I still need more pictures
Doesn't everbody
This dictionary does not have Leukemia
Thank God it's saved but it does have hookworm.
I need more pictures
I know I know
Where is Bob
Not here that's for sure

In Kappa Delta we are forever on our way, passing each day in search of friends and fun. Extending our hand our to touch those not yet known to us. Life is an endless voyage of new faces and a world of constant encounters, but with Kappa Delta . . . everything is homeward bound.

Sometimes we feel the touch of alone, solitude fills the air but turn to catch our sisters smile, together again. Although there are times to spend by ourselves, there is much to experience mutually. We care to learn from those we know and give of ourselves in return. For knowledge is those we really know and the experiences we encounter. With Kappa Delta you have a bond of warm and friendly sisterly love.

1974-75 has proven to be a most successful year for Delta Chi. We were ranked number one in Intramural Sports and won both the overall Basketball and Volleyball Championships. In other campus activities we held several of the top SGA and IFC positions and had brothers honored for their academic excellence by being tapped into many of the honor societies. Our year was highlighted when one of our sponsors, Sue Link, was crowned as this year's Homecoming Queen. Delta Chi is a fraternity of men, bound together by brotherhood and striving to achieve a high level of excellence in all that they do.

Kappa Alpha was founded at Washington and Lee College on December 21, 1865. KA represents almost every college in the southeast and is now spreading throughout the country. Delta Rho Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Valdosta State College campus on November 19, 1971.

With General Robert E. Lee as their spiritual founder, the KA's celebrate their annual Old South week every spring. Reliving the Old South, Kappa Alpha takes great pride in holding the Old South Ball.

In the few short years that Kappa Alpha has been on the VSC campus, it has formed one of the strongest bonds of brotherhood. KA distinguishes themselves in all areas of the college life from the faculty, administration, SGA Comptroller, IFC Vice-President, Yearbook Editor, SGA Senators, Greek God, to all areas of intramural sports, campus honor societies and clubs.

Pi Kappa Phi was founded December 10, 1904, at the College of Charleston. Because of our southern founding, there is a Pi Kap chapter on almost every major college and university in the southeast. Our chapter here at Valdosta State is one of the oldest social fraternities on the campus. Beta Tau Chapter was founded on January 17, 1959.

Pi Kap brothers have attempted to distinguish themselves in all areas of campus life. This year one of our brothers is serving as SGA President and one as Senior Representative. Another brother is also serving as the Inter-Fraternity Council President. Each year out chapter sponsors the "Miss VSC Contest." The winner of this contest goes on to compete in the "Miss Georgia Pagent." Pi Kappa Phi is also very active in sports. This year Pi Kap won the Softball Championship.
